The Power of Two

Customized Deflashing Systems for Plastic Moulders

As a plastic moulder, you have to deflash your products, or debur the plastic residue on parts. Your customers expect this.

STANMECH Technologies Inc. can customize a solution for you. Our deflashing systems use Leister equipment to provide precise amounts of heat for perfect deflashing every time. This can be done as part of the production line, even before the products leave the mould. Your choice!

Ten Benefits of STANMECH's Deflashing Systems
